Students will only be required to prepare the first 5 staves of each etude as listed in the PAL. The judging panel may select a shorter cut of material for the auditions so long as at least 50 percent of the portion of each etude that students were required to prepare is heard. For wind instruments, students will also be required to perform 2 of the major scales appearing in the PAL (to be selected by the judging panel) as well as the chromatic scale appearing in the PAL.

Section 6.7. Middle School Audition Materials. Middle school students (grades 6-8) will audition using materials from the ATSSB Suggested Audition List (SAL). Auditions taking place during the 2012-2013 school year will use SAL Year A, 2013-2014 auditions will use Year B, 2014-2015 auditions will use Year C, and then the three-year cycle will be repeated. Students will only be required to prepare the first 3 staves of each etude as listed in the SAL. The judging panel may select a shorter cut of material for the auditions so long as at least 50 percent of the portion of each etude that students were required to prepare is heard. For wind instruments, students will also be required to perform 2 of the major scales appearing in the SAL (to be selected by the judging panel) as well as the chromatic scale appearing in the SAL.

Section 6.8. Use of Music. Students will be permitted to use printed sheet music for any of the required audition selections, including scales; memorization will not be required. It is suggested that copies of the required music, with the exact cuts of the audition etudes and the exact scales to be performed clearly noted, be provided on a stand in the audition room.

Section 6.9. Audition Procedures. The official audition rules and procedures that appear in the ATSSB PAL shall be followed for both middle school and high school auditions except as noted herein.

Section 6.9.1. Entering the Audition Room. For each instrument section, all students auditioning on that instrument will enter the audition room together. A chair and stand for the auditioning student should be placed as close as possible to, and facing, the judging panel, which will be behind a curtain or other visual shield. Other students should sit at least 6 feet farther away from the judging panel than the rear-most part of the audition chair.

Section 6.9.2. First Audition Round for Wind Instruments. Prior to commencing the auditions, the chair of the judging panel will ensure that all students are aware of the selected audition cuts and scales. The chair of the judging panel will then direct the monitor to time a 30-second warm up for all students in the room. At the conclusion of the 30 seconds, the student with the first audition letter will perform the required scales and the slow etude, followed by each of the other students in order of audition letter. Prior to performing, each student will be allowed a one-breath warm up as provided for in the official ATSSB audition rules. After every 3-5 students (determined by the chair of the judging panel based on the total number of auditioning students), the monitor will time a 30-second warm up for all students in the room. The monitor should ensure that all student warm up at every opportunity to persevere a fair audition experience for everyone.

Section 6.9.3. Second Audition Round for Wind Instruments. After all students have performed the required scales and slow etude, the monitor will time another 30-second warm up and then have the student with the first audition letter return to the audition chair to perform the fast etude. The fast etude will then be performed in turn by each student in order of audition letter, with 30-second warm ups provided at the same interval as during the first round of the auditions. Prior to performing, each student will be allowed a one-breath warm up as provided for in the official ATSSB audition rules. The monitor should ensure that all student warm up at every opportunity to persevere a fair audition experience for everyone. All students must remain in the audition room until the auditions have concluded.

Section 6.9.4. Percussion Auditions. Percussion auditions will be conducted in the same manner as provided for in Sections 5.9.1, 5.9.2, and 5.9.3 except that there will be three auditions rounds (first round is snare, second round is mallets, third round is timpani) and instead of a “one-breath” warm up each student will be allowed to warm up prior to performing as provided for in the official ATSSB percussion audition rules. Said warm up is to be a 5 second roll on the first note of the selection. 30-second warm ups will be conducted after every 3-5 students have performed (determined by the chair of the judging panel based on the total number of auditioning students) and between audition rounds.

Section 6.9.4.1. Tuning of Timpani. For high school auditions, each student will be required to tune the timpani as provided for in the official ATSSB percussion audition rules. After each student has performed the timpani etude the monitor will make sure that all tuning pedals are lowered to the floor. Section 6.10. Judges. All directors (head and assistants) of schools with students entered in the auditions are expected to be present for judging duties. The Region Coordinator may hire qualified judges from outside of the region at a rate of $75 per audition for a certified teacher and $50 per audition for a college student in order to expedite the audition process. The official judging procedures listed in the ATSSB PAL shall be followed for both middle school and high school auditions. Judges shall maintain professional decorum at all times.

The clinician for each All-Region Band shall be paid a fee upon completion of services as agreed upon by the Region.
